

Meet the Teacher

Ms. Tarver

About Me

I am excited to introduce myself as your child's 4th grade science and social studies teacher this year!

My name is Shelly Tarver, and I can't wait to embark on this educational adventure with your children. I hold a Master's in Education from DePaul University in Chicago and have previously taught grades 5 through 8, giving me a broad understanding of the learning journey your children are on. Outside of teaching, I'm the busy parent of three wonderful children—Pip, Olive, and Clementine—who also attend Rolling Hills Elementary. When I'm not teaching or wrangling kids, you'll find me running our small farm or possibly still covered in paint from a home remodeling project. My eclectic background includes professional theater, which means we might bring some fun into our lessons with reader's theater or historical reenactments to make social studies come alive!

I look forward to a fantastic year of discovery and growth with your children, and I am committed to fostering a supportive and inspiring classroom environment.

Fun Facts

- * DIY Enthusiast: I've remodeled my entire house—from plumbing to painting. If it's broken, I'm fixing it with creativity and maybe a bit of duct tape.
- * Farm Life: I have 50+ chickens!
- * Creative at Heart: If there's a hobby, I've probably tried it. Favorites include quilting, woodworking, and up cycling furniture.
- * Puzzle Obsessed: I always have a puzzle going at home. Obsessed.
- * Music and Theater Lover: I love singing, playing my guitar, and live theater is everything to me.
